REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, JANUARY 29, 1921

ESTABLISHED 1859

DIVISION OF LARGE ESTATE WAS DISMISSED LAST WEEK

The suit in partition entitled A. L. Dornberger and Victor Dornberger against Hugh Lambert Ross and John D. Ross, as the executors of the last will and testament of Thomas D. Ross, deceased, has been dismissed in the superior court and the notice of dismissal was filed in the county clerk's office last week.

The plaintiffs are the uncles of Hugh Lambert Ross, son of Dr. T. D. Ross, deceased, who practiced medicine in Mountain View some years ago. The elder Dornberger, a pioneer of Mayfield, died some years ago, leaving his ranch of nearly 1200 acres of land in the Alpine district to A. L. Dornberger and Victor Dornberger and to his grandson, H. L. Ross. Some time ago a disagreement arose as to the division of the property when the suit in partition was instituted. A bitter fight was anticipated but wisely a compromise was effected by the attorneys in the case last month. By the terms of the compromise young Ross receives 455 acres and A. L. Dornberger and his brothers secure the balance of the ranch, 733 acres. The Dornberger boys are twins and for years have been high school principals in San Jose. At one time A. L. Dornberger was a candidate for the principality of the local high school. The Dornbergers have been prominent on the peninsula for over forty years.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE WINDS UP AFFAIRS

The Republican County Committee held an important meeting on Saturday last at which all the business of the late campaign was wound up and settled. An assessment of $100 levied by the national committee was paid by the individual members.

After all claims were paid there was a small balance left in the hands of Treasurer D. E. O'Keefe. This will be expended the next campaign by the new committee. The Republicans of the county may thank the committee for the good work done by it during the recent campaign. The result was very gratifying to all.

The committee furnished the sinews of war, receiving very little aid from other sources. The county was labeled with posters and pictures of Harding, Shortridge and Free. This was done at quite a big expense as men with automobiles were out on the road for several days. It was worth it as the result of the vote showed a big republican majority.

SEVERAL OIL LEASES WERE FILED ON OIL LAND

The San Gregorio Oil Company, through L. H. Eiken, has filed two oil leases in the office of Recorder T. C. Rice. The property leased by the company are the ranch of Eric Alford and the property of Raymond Dias. Both farms are located near San Gregorio. For some time development work has been going on there and good indications have been secured for oil. There are a number of wealthy men behind the concern who contemplate spending large sums in boring wells. The properties leased by the company are not far from the Bell ranch which is now producing oil in small quantities.

Frank T. Mesquite through his attorney, J. J. Bullock, has applied in the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of Frank S. Mesquite, who died on January 19, 1921. The estate consists of 11 acres of land at San Gregorio valued at $1000, cash amounting to $600, outstanding notes of an unknown value and an interest in his mother's estate in the Azores Islands. The heirs at law are Manuel S. Mesquite of San Gregorio and A. S. Mesquite of the Azores Islands, brothers of the decedent.

LESLIE JAMES TALMAGE PASSES TO WORLD BEYOND

In the passing of Leslie James Talmage, the high school which he attended has been shrouded in sorrow and in the happy home where he was the idol of his parents there is gloom and sadness. He will be missed from the family circle for his cheerful smile was an inspiration to all.

Leslie, as he was called by his friends, was a home boy, he loved music, met everyone with a smile. His young life was pure, clean and noble.

Monday afternoon last he said to his brother, Ralph, "stand back, I will show you the most beautiful picture you have ever seen." Then, it is believed, he had a vision of heaven, only those who are passing can see. Soon after his soul took its flight to the regions beyond.

James Leslie Talmage was born in San Francisco 16 years ago, coming to Redwood City nine years since with his parents. He was a member of the Congregational church and an active member of the Samaritan class. He was also a member of the freshman class of the Sequoia Union High School. There he made a splendid record as a hard working student.

He played basketball with his class at the school last Saturday afternoon. He took a severe cold. His body was frail and could not withstand the inroads of that dreaded disease, pneumonia and despite all that medical aid and the loving assistance of parents could do the young man succumbed to that malady late Monday afternoon.

The funeral took place from the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon. Studies were suspended in the high school and the edifice was crowded by the sorrowing relatives and friends of the deceased.

Among the numerous beautiful floral offerings were the ones sent by the Student Body of the high school, the Freshman class, the faculty, the basketball squad and Congregational Sunday school and the Samaritan class.

The pallbearers were from the latter organization and were Donald Kirtland, Brenton Worder, Meredith Eva, Will Stevens, Theodore Arp and Charles Emerick.

Rev. C. H. Stevens, who conducted the services, paid a touching tribute to the life and character of the deceased young man.

"There'll be no sorrow there," and "Abide By Me," were rendered by Mrs. C. H. Stevens and Prof. O. M. Carrington.

The interment was in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Robert Gruenhagen, a wealthy armorer of the State of Washington, is here on a visit to his friend, Town Trustee H. C. Tuchsien. Mr. Gruenhagen is a former Californian who loves the state and its sunshine and flowers.

Born—in Fruitvale, Cal., January 14th, to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Benson, a son. Mr. Benson was principal of the Redwood City grammar school about ten years ago and is now in charge of the schools of Fruitvale. Mrs. Benson was formerly Miss Lydia Miner, a teacher in the local schools. This is the third arrival in their family.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Williams on Edgewood Road, Wellesley Park, was the scene of a delightful bridge party last Wednesday evening, given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Waterman, who recently moved to Redwood from Chicago and who are residing on Arlington Road. A large number of guests were invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Waterman and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

The Italian Cooperativa Company has purchased the bakery business of A. Carera on Main street near Five Points and will conduct it in connection with their grocery in the same building.

Mrs. Josephine Tippmann passed away at Santa Clara on Tuesday last. The funeral took place from the parlors of the James Crowe Company yesterday morning. After services at Mount Carmel church the remains were interred in Holy Cross cemetery, Menlo Park. The deceased was born and raised at San Gregorio. She was formerly Miss Josephine Isadore.

Miss Alice Curran, daughter of the late James Curran and whose girlhood was spent in Redwood City, has been elected to a position in the San Francisco school department at a salary of $45 in excess of that she was receiving at San Mateo. For several years Miss Curran has been a successful instructor at the Froebel Hall and Peninsula avenue kindergartens. She will gain a decided advantage over her present conditions through security of tenure of office and the increased pay.

Ernest Werder, the County Purchasing Agent, is enjoying his new quarters in the committee room of the board of supervisors. Recently he moved there from the district attorney's office where the purchasing agent held forth for a number of years. The spacious committee room affords plenty of space for the business of that department of the county government.

The receiving class of the first grade of the local grammar school will start on Monday next, January 31. Parents having children aged six years will bring them to the office of A. E. Monteth, the principal, and start them off on their educational career. Start the boys and girls young to school and give them a good chance for an education.

Forest Moodie, assistant manager of the Standard Oil Company for Redwood City, has returned to his home after spending three weeks in the Peninsula Hospital.

Oscar Sahlgren and family have moved to Watsonville where Mr. Sahlgren is to engage in intensive farming with a relative.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martens are being congratulated upon the arrival of a new grandson. The little man arrived at the Albert Martens home in San Francisco on Tuesday. This is the first child in their home and the first grandchild in the family to carry on the name of Martens.

County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud went to Woodland, Yolo county, Thursday and delivered two addresses at the Yolo County Teachers' Institute. Mr. Cloud and State Superintendent Will C. Wood were the outside speakers who were in attendance and gave instruction and inspiration to the teachers. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Cloud made the graduation address at the Burlingame school and last night he addressed the graduating class at Hillsborough.

Assemblyman Frank L. Ekwand was in Redwood City Wednesday greeting friends and talking over legislative problems with interested parties here.

The Bank of Italy, in a report just issued, says that the school children of San Mateo county have $13,298.61 deposited in the bank. This is in addition to a good many thousands dollars in thrift stamps. Every parent should encourage his or her children to save. The child who learns to save today will be the frugal citizen of tomorrow.

A marriage license was issued out of the county clerk's office yesterday to Robert N. Gill of Millbrae and Elizabeth S. Jolliffe of Woodside.

Mount Carmel Church Choir will give a card party at parochial residence of Father Kennedy next Thursday evening. Several valuable prizes are to be awarded the winner of the game.

PIONEERS READ "DUCK" STORY WITH GREAT INTEREST

In "Duck Hunting Reminiscences," story, No. 28, written by Claude Fox for this paper, the author paid a high tribute to the pioneer families of Ravenswood over whose lands he had hunted in the early days. Since the publication of that story Mr. Fox has received from W. L. Cooley of 130 Irving street, San Francisco and Mrs. Geraldine E. Frisbie of 448 Highland avenue, San Mateo, Mr. Cooley's mother, letters of deep appreciation and gratitude for the kindly words written concerning their families. The Cooleys were most certainly worthy of all that was said of them, for as Claude Fox well wrote, their reputation for unconventional good fellowship and hospitality extended from one end of our county to the other. Mr. Fox prizes the letters very highly.

CONTRACT FOR CROP OF TOMATOES CAUSE OF SUIT FOR $4,700 DAMAGES

A suit was filed Wednesday in the superior court at Redwood City by M. S. Costa, Jr., through his attorney, Egerton D. Larkin of Palo Alto, to recover $4,700.16 and costs of suit from the Tamal Packing company, a corporation, of San Francisco.

The parties to the suit entered into a contract on January 28, 1920, whereby the plaintiff was to raise tomatoes for canning on sixty acres of land at Rummymede, the defendant corporation to purchase the entire crop at $18.00 per ton, and should certain other canneries pay as high as $20.00 per ton during the season the defendant agreed to pay that price to the plaintiff.

About 255.92 tons of high-grade canning tomatoes are alleged to have been delivered on the contract, after which the Tamal Packing company refused to accept the balance of the crop of 224.36 tons and the plaintiff was forced to dispose of same at a price of $10.00 per ton, resulting in a loss of $2243.60 for which he asks judgment together with $2,516.56 due on the tomatoes delivered and costs of suit.

STATE AID

The people of the coastside should circulate a petition to Senator M. B. Johnson asking him to secure legislation that will provide aid in securing the right-of-way of the Ocean Shore railroad, and changing it into a wide scenic boulevard to take care of the increasing traffic for business and pleasure. The state is interested because it will be a highway that tax-payers from every part of the state will be interested in. No state road except the main highways will be of service to so many people. The million people around the bay need the road. The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, the Santa Cruz Chamber of Commerce and the different chambers of commerce of San Mateo county should get behind the movement.

The U. S. Government contributes to the building of roads to forest reservations. It is of much greater importance that a coast boulevard for national defense and protection be built. It is true that we are to have the Skyline boulevard, but it is also true that there are a million people in the San Francisco bay district who support the Government by taxes, and are entitled to consideration. This is not a local, or county affair. It is for the State and Nation to consider. Government engineers have time and again recommended the establishment of coast defense between San Francisco and Halfmoon Bay. Millions are being spent at San Diego and San Pedro and other points, but the unprotected coast south of San Francisco needs at least the protection and convenience of a broad coast line boulevard.

The road over the mountain is efficient. We need a wide properly constructed boulevard from the Great White Way via Colma Hills, Beach Hill, Pedro Tunnel, Saddle Rock and on to Halfmoon Bay. We believe that if our people would send a petition to Senator Johnson that a practical plan may be worked out and that the State will provide the funds.

If you are interested address a communication to State Senator M. B. Johnson, Sacramento, Cal.—Halfmoon Bay Review.

IMPORTANT CASES BEFORE THE COURT TODAY

R. Mowat, the embezzler, was arranged upon the indictment of the grand jury on Thursday. He will plead to the indictment this morning.

An information was filed against M. Gale on a charge of rape. He will be arraigned this morning in the superior court.

George Ferguson, charged with burglary committed at Woodside on January 8, 1921, will plead to the information filed against him this morning.

THE COUNTY GRAND JURY RETURNS ITS REPORT

The grand jury that has been in session since last November made its report late yesterday afternoon and was discharged by Judge Buck who took the occasion to thank the members for their diligence and care in discharging the duties imposed upon them.

The county jail was given a clean bill of health as was the county hospital. The jury recommended that an electric lighting system be installed at the hospital as soon as practicable.

It was recommended that the detention home be provided with more windows and doors so as to prevent escape of the inmates. It was urged that more precaution be used in this connection.

In regard to the proposed new county hospital the jury adopted the following resolution:

RESOLVED: That the Grand Jury of San Mateo County condemn the action of the Board of Supervisors of said County in attempting, at this time, to begin construction of a County Hospital, at a cost, in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The Grand Jury recommends that the matter of a County Hospital of this magnitude, be put directly up to the voters and taxpayers of the County for their approval or disapproval, and it is the sense of the Grand Jury that said County Hospital is uncalled for at this time of excessive construction costs, and that the cost of maintenance of such an institution is not warranted by the needs of the County.

It was recommended that in as much as there were many men out of employment that an employment agent be stationed at Redwood City and that the County Purchasing Agent act as such.

The sanitary condition at Five Points was condemned. It was urged that the people of that section take proper precaution to protect their health until such times as conditions could be corrected.

An indictment was brought against Lloyd C. Martin for non-support of his minor children. The criticism of Judge Lamb's absence from duty was investigated and the jury found that Mr. Lamb was confined to his home with illness.

The traffic officers and constables were urged to arrest all delinquent minors who indulged in crap games.

The board of supervisors was criticized for allowing extra clerks to the various offices. The practice was declared to be illegal. It was recommended that the county government act be changed to prevent this.

It was recommended that in townships where there was not sufficient work for two justices and two constables that one court and one constable be dispensed with.

The expert's statement was attached to the report. It shows a thorough investigation of the various offices and gives them all a favorable report.

The jury has recommended the following schedule of salaries for the various county officials:

COUNTY CLERK—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year, and two deputies at one hundred and fifty dollars per month, four deputies at one hundred dollars per month, and one clerk for four months of the year at seventy-five dollars per month.

TAX COLLECTOR—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year, and one deputy at eighteen hundred dollars per year, five deputies at seventy-five dollars per month, for four months in the year; and three indexes at seventy-five dollars per month for four months of the year.

TREASURER—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year, with one deputy at one hundred and fifty dollars per month.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year, with one deputy at one hundred dollars per month and one stenographer at one hundred dollars per month when preliminary examinations are taken, otherwise at seventy-five dollars per month.

ASSESSOR—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year with one deputy at eighteen hundred dollars per year, and deputies as per present have.

AUDITOR—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year and no change in deputies.

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS—Thirty-five hundred dollars per year and one deputy at seventy-five dollars per month.

SURVEYOR—Three thousand dollars per year.

SHERIFF—To receive Forty-five hundred dollars a year and to be allowed one deputy at one hundred and seventy-five dollars per month, one deputy at one hundred seventy-five dollars per month, and two deputies at one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month.

DUCK HUNTING REMINISCENCES Story No. 30

By Claude Fox.

It has been said and written that the darkest hours are just before the dawn. Theoretically this may be so, but when applied practically I do not take much stock in it. It is however a very beautiful belief to be instilled into the mind of a stricken man or woman afflicted with some incurable malady, that the dark hours through which they are passing are to be succeeded by a brightness, the intensity of which will more than repay them for their sufferings. From a duck hunter's point of view the theory is hardly tenable, for from personal experience I can testify on behalf of my pals and myself that we have spent many of the darkest hours of the night waiting at some favorite duck pond for the moon to rise when the dawn was a long ways off. I will also vouch for the fact that the coldest hour is that which just succeeds the dawn. If there is any doubt in your mind about this my young duck hunter of today just hop into a scull boat with me some morning while I take you for a spin down the bay eastward in the general direction of Dumbarton bridge. Day has half broken and the sun coming up behind the eastern mountains is slowly forcing the chilly night atmosphere which has settled down over the bay backward across the water directly in your face. We are now half a mile west of Green Point.

If you have not already become aware of the temperature I will put you over a stool of decoys under the same conditions and if your teeth do not chatter then while waiting for the flutter of wings which brings joy to a duck hunter's heart, go back with me to a morning in November thirty-eight years ago when Still, "Squinty," Sears and myself stood at the junction of the forks of the Flood creek, the tide high, the white frost crackling under our feet, the first rays of the sun beaming over snow-capped mountains with no hunting dog to do his master's bidding, and a beautiful drake mallard stone dead in the center of the creek slowly drifting outward on the first of the ebb tide. Was it cold that morning? I'll say it was, for it was the hour just succeeding dawn.

We had left home early, made a sneak into the Flood pond, knocked over a half dozen ducks, succeeded in a clean get-away into the marsh and reached a point on the creek just as a bunch of mallard came flying along southward. The birds came on to us rather suddenly out of the dark blue background of the northern sky and we both fired one shot simultaneously. There was no dispute between us as to who killed that duck. Still Sears was square to the dot. Both shots rang out so close together that they sounded but as one.

The problem that confronted us was how to retrieve that bird. Mallard were never very plentiful on the marshes here and it was heart-breaking to see that drake float out with the tide. I was just past seventeen then, full of the life and vim of a healthy, growing boy and a little thing like a cold plunge before sun up I looked upon as only an event of the day in a duck hunter's life.

The mallard was drifting farther outward all the time. I started to undress. "Squinty" begged me not to go in, but the sight of that mallard drifting was too much. Today I would hesitate on such a course. When I had reached the "September Morn," stage of dishabille "Squinty" aghast protested, but one look at the curl in that mallard's tail as he floated away was sufficient. In I plunged. What boy would have done otherwise? The water was far warmer than the cold morning air. It was only the matter of a few minutes and I was back again with the duck, proud of my achievement but satisfied beyond any question of a doubt that the coldest hour just succeeds the dawn.

While the tide was up it was not practicable to hunt the creeks so we turned westward into the live oaks in quest of wild pigeons which at that time were very plentiful about the Flood, Barney and Adams places and after securing a dozen wandered back to the marshland and continued duck hunting. When the sun got well down to the westward we came in over the mud flats and sat down at the Third Fence to rest. Now Fred Stalter and myself had been hunting the grain fields from the Nash place southwards and meeting with success, but it had never occurred to us to look nearer home on the Sweeney place for the feeding grounds of the widgeon. The sun went down and Still and I sat there munching some stolen apples. They are always sweeter you know. Twilight was approaching. The field next to the marsh between the Second and Third Fences had been sown to barley and the young tender shoots were a couple of inches high. "Squinty" had been using an old muzzle loading gun which Jack Stafford, then a deputy sheriff, had taken from the notorious Raphael Vidal, who in those days kept the peace officers busy and the residents in the vicinity of Halfmoon Bay in more or less a state of terror. He was about out of powder and shot but I had about a dozen shells left for my breach loader. While we were sitting there debating about starting for home a flock of ducks passed inland to the north of us very low down and before we realized it flock after flock followed. In the remaining daylight left in the western sky we could plainly see them, but they were soon lost to sight in the shadow of the fences. There was not a quack or whistle to be heard. "Where the devil are they going?" I said to "Still." "Looks like the fields," he replied, as we started up the center towards home. All at once a flock came within twenty-five yards and we let go four barrels and killed five.

With the sound of those shots a sight met our eyes I shall never forget. "Good God, Squinty the ground is rising," I said and it really looked so. The field only contained about sixteen acres, but I have never in my life saw so many ducks raise from such a small field as they did then. They had been feeding for a couple of weeks undisturbed and the tops of the young barley was cut off as clean as though a mowing machine had run over it. We killed fourteen within a few minutes and night after night we hunted that field with good results until the rest of the boys got wise and the widgeon then moved elsewhere.

Union Cemetery also claims the mortal remains of Still Sears, but I think of him often and the discovery we made that night, and I can see his keen eyes sparkle as he related the incidents of that evening, as he was wanted to do, and the merry josh he would fling me by closing with "Good God, Squinty, the ground is raising."

JAMES P. COLEMAN ARRIVED HERE SUNDAY WITH HIS PRISONER FROM NEW YORK

James P. Coleman, the deputy sheriff, arrived in Redwood City last Sunday from New York bringing with him R. Mowat, the embezzler. Mr. Coleman had an enjoyable trip. Mowat fought extradition in New York and after several days in court he gave up the fight and meekly agreed to return to California.

The extradition papers were the first ones the new governor signed, having been only inaugurated the day before the papers were presented to him. Mr. Coleman was met on his arrival at the New York depot by a taxi provided by James Wood, former police commissioner of San Francisco and at one time manager of the St. Francis Hotel. On Mr. Coleman's return he stopped off at Chicago where he was the guest of Chief of Detectives Sheehan, brother of Sheriff Sheehan of this city. Mr. Coleman suffered from the extreme cold of the east. He was delighted to get back to sunny California.

The lenten season begins on Wednesday, February 9 and will be observed in the Catholic and Episcopal churches. Easter Sunday will fall on March 27.

JUST AND EQUITABLE INCREASE IN SALARY

The bill introduced in congress to increase the pay of senators and congressmen from $7,500 to $10,000 a year is a just one and should become a law. If we desire able men in congress the emoluments should be made attractive enough to insure a living for the members. Because the salary is so small poor men cannot make the race for the office while rich men who only want the honor of the place. After March 1921 the bill will be represented by two comparatively but the two ablest men in their pay should be in line with the dignity and influence of office.

CHANGE IN SCHOOL GEO

Undoubtedly tremendous in the geography of school in the State lie in the balance the outcome of the legislation on the bill introduced by Senator Herbert Jones, providing for a change in the school district by a majority of its own electors may with one union school district in become annexed to another. Consider the situation in the several school districts of the south of Palo Alto which has such preference for the Union High School as to public to believe that the welcome the opportunity of from their own districts an annexed to Palo Alto's as the proposition should be a to Palo Alto. The strongest fact that students from districts have been sent to here, notwithstanding a protest was made to bar the entrance here, a fight was home to keep them in the school.

This is true of the pupils of Los Altos, Menlo Park, Redwood City, Los Gatos, Los Lomas, etc. The three districts by their vote against the proposition of buying a new site Sequoia Union District High at Redwood City gave further for the inference that the Union district was the one of their own choice. Senator Jones' bill would for what such districts want. While we are most interested in the effect of the bill upon our own district, there are undoubtedly similar situations elsewhere in the State making the outcome of the bill's treatment in the Legislature one of great importance.—P. A. Times.

It is quite true that these districts did vote against the Redwood City high school site but they did so on account of the increased taxes that would be incurred but not because they wanted to secede from the Union High School district. The people in these districts have no desire to become a part of the Palo Alto high school. They do not want that further burden of taxation, then too the high school at Redwood City is far superior to the College City institution.

JUST AND EQUITABLE INCREASE IN SALARY

The bill introduced in congress to increase the pay of senators and congressmen from $7500 to $10,000 a year is a just one and should become a law. If we desire able men in congress the emoluments should be made attractive enough to insure a living for the members. Because the salary is so small poor men cannot make the race for the office while rich men who only want the honor secure the places. After March 4th, California will be represented in the senate by two comparatively poor men but the two ablest men in the state. Their pay should be in keeping with the dignity and influence of the high office.

CHANGE IN SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY

Undoubtedly tremendous changes in the geography of school districts in the State lie in the balance awaiting the outcome of the Legislature's action on the bill introduced by Senator Herbert Jones, providing that a school district by a majority vote of its own electors may withdraw from one union school district in order to become annexed to another.

Consider the situation near home. There are several school districts in the union high school districts north and south of Palo Alto which have shown such preference for the Palo Alto Union High School as to lead the public to believe that they would welcome the opportunity of seceding from their own districts and becoming annexed to Palo Alto's schools. If the proposition should be agreeable to Palo Alto. The strongest evidence along this line is furnished by the fact that students from contiguous districts have been sent to school here, notwithstanding a protest from both districts, an that when an attempt was made to bar them from entrance here, a fight was made at home to keep them in the Palo Alto school.

This is true of the pupils from Los Altos, Menlo Park, Ravenswood and Los Lomitas. The three latter districts by their vote against the proposition of buying a new site for the Sequoia Union District High School at Redwood City gave further ground for the inference that the Palo Alto union district was the one of their own choice.

Senator Jones' bill would pave the way for what such districts evidently want. While we are most interested in the effect of the bill upon our own district, there are undoubtedly similar situations elsewhere in the State making the outcome of the bill's treatment in the Legislature one of great importance.—P. A. Times.

It is quite true that these districts did vote against the Redwood City high school site but they did so on account of the increased taxes that would be incurred but not because they wanted to secede from the Union High School district. The people in these districts have no desire to become a part of the Palo Alto high school. They do not want that further burden of taxation, then too the high school at Redwood City is far superior to the College City institution.

BIG NAVY FOR PEACE AND JUSTICE TO ALL

It is estimated that by 1924 the United States will have by far the most powerful navy in the world. For over 300 years Great Britain has held supremacy over the seas, but now she is rapidly yielding control to America. If nothing unforeseen occurs to interrupt our building program, we will have three years hence 27 capital ships with a total tonnage of 883,000 tons. At the same time the British navy will include 18 ships of similar class of a total tonnage of 487,000 tons. In addition our vessels will have a faster maximum speed and mount larger and more powerful guns. Other countries will all have fleets inferior to the American, even Japan, which is building substantial increases to her navy, being considerably behind the United States.

Now, just so long as that state of naval supremacy is maintained the United States will be the most powerful factor for peace in the world. There is probably not a government but will concede that America is the most potent moral influence among the nations. But in the league of nations, conducted by Mr. Wilson as a peace panacea, this country could never have exerted that influence for good. Had the United States become a member of the league she would have had one vote on the council against eight foreign ballots, and only one vote in the assembly against forty or more of the other members. What would it have mattered how highly moral the stand of the United States on a question might have been? She could have been outvoted overwhelmingly, and the forces of Old World imperialism would have remained in the saddle in Europe, and might have extended their malign influence to the Western Hemisphere.

With a navy capable of defeating any rival, the safety of the United States is preserved, something that could never have been assured by reliance on the league of nations. The Monroe Doctrine remains, as it has in the past, inviolable against the designs of grasping nations of the Old World. Peace on the Western Hemisphere is freed for all time from the danger of threats from abroad. If situations present themselves across the seas that appear to demand aid from the United States, our Congress favors the extension of such assistance, it can be done according to our conception of what is needed, regardless of the attitude of other nations or of the league of nations should it continue to exist. In short, an adequate United States Navy means that the world force of law and order is supreme, and after protecting its own home and its own hemisphere it may, if occasion warrants turn its attention to the troubles of others.

It is probable that the naval increases necessitated by the war will be continued as the settled policy of the country. Of course "disarmament" is the cry one hears from Europe. The weaker nations of the Old World all want to see the power of the United States reduced to the point where they can have an equal voice with her in determining the future moral policy of the world. When the peace conference convened in Paris, England served notice that the doctrine of freedom of the seas, flouted by Mr. Wilson as one of his famous fourteen points, could not even be discussed, much less conceded. England was then supreme on the water, but with her control slipping from her we hear Mr. Lloyd George calling loudly for disarmament and the inclusion of every country in the league of nations. In plain language he wants the United States subject to British votes in the league and subject to the British Navy on the seas. But will the most ardent pacifist contend that the consummation of the British premier's wishes would conduce to peace? The most effective guarantee for peace that can be devised by man is the maintenance of an American navy big enough to enforce justice whenever and wherever congress may see fit to order it.

PALO ALTO GROCERY
PRICES HIGH, IS CHARGE

Palo Alto groceries and meat markets are charging their customers prices which are 7.9 per cent higher than those charged at Redwood City, 6.7 per cent higher than in San Jose and 7 per cent higher than San Francisco, according to a statement appearing in this afternoon's issue of the Daily Palo Alto; the student newspaper.

The statement declares that "campus house managers have agreed to take action in an endeavor to reduce prices in Palo Alto to a level of those in surrounding towns. The case is to be presented to the Palo Alto merchants and Chamber of Commerce."

The ladies of Palo Alto have made comparisons of prices by buying meat and groceries in Palo Alto and Redwood City and have found the prices as above stated. Groceries and meats are sold cheaper in Redwood City than in any other town on the peninsula. The quality is just as good. It behooves the people of Palo Alto to patronize the meat and meat markets.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

The rainfall for the recent storm was three and one-fourth inches, making a total for the season of 12.76 inches. The rainfall at this time last year was a little over four inches. The normal rainfall for this time of the year is a little more than ten inches.

Rev. Caldwell, a former pastor of the Presbyterian church here, writes to friends that he has been appointed rector of a church in Valentine, Nebraska, a charge he held over ten years ago. Despite his 81 years he is still hale and hearty and an enthusiastic worker in the vineyard of the Lord.

Frank B. Neal, connected with a large commercial concern in San Francisco, has purchased a home in Stanford Park and will move from the city next week.

The fire department was called Tuesday evening to the H. G. Stevenson home at Atherton to put out an incipient fire. It started in a fireplace. By tearing up the flooring the trouble was soon reached and the flames quenched before any damage was done. The department was slow in moving but when it started did efficient work.

Miss Margaret Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Walsh, has been appointed assistant registered nurse of the Redwood City Hospital. Miss Grace King is the manager of the institution. Miss Walsh is a graduate of one of the leading hospitals in San Francisco and has had much success in her profession.

Mrs. James Logan was operated upon at the Red Cross hospital in San Mateo on Tuesday for a serious ailment. She is improving nicely and will soon recover but will be confined to the hospital for some time to come.

Charles A. Shurtleff, the well-known attorney who maintains an attractive home in Menlo Oaks, returned from a trip from Los Angeles a few days ago. The streets of that city were flooded with water when he was there. Shopping was almost impossible. Mr. Shurtleff, however, was impressed with the enterprise and progressive ideas of the people of the southern city.

Samuel M. Shortridge, senator-elect, will depart shortly for Washington to prepare himself for the extra session that is to be called after the inauguration of the new president W. G. Harding. Mr. Shortridge will acquaint himself with the numerous details of the office and will confer with political leaders. His fame has preceded him to the capital and it is rumored in Washington that he is to be placed on some very important committees and is to be one of the advisers of the president in regard to western affairs. Mr. Shortridge is to take an important part in the new tariff bill that is to be enacted by the extra session of congress. There are a great many California products that will have to be taken care of by the proposed law. Lemon growers in Southern California did not gather their fruit this season owing to the low prevailing prices caused by the flooded market of the lemons from Sicily. A tariff will be placed on the foreign commodity so that California growers may be protected from the cheap labor of Sicily. The mining industry of Northern California will receive attention also. The Mc-

Padden bill now before congress may not pass at this session but will be fathered by Mr. Shortridge at the next session. This bill will raise the price of gold $10 an ounce. It is believed this law will awaken the lagging mining industry of the state and that great mining properties that have been idle for years will resume work. Mr. Shortridge carries with him the best wishes of his neighbors for a successful career at the national capital.

Mary Boyce, who passed away in San Francisco last Monday, was well-known in Menlo Park, having spent much time here in days gone by in visiting friends. She was a sister of Mrs. John Kelly formerly of Portola. Both sisters often visited here. The Boyce family were old-time residents of San Mateo.

The jitney dance and raffle to take place under the auspices of Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., next Thursday in Native Sons hall is to be a big affair, well-attended and enjoyable. In the intermissions between the dances a raffle of all kinds of articles is to take place. Among the articles offered will be a handsome silver set. There will be a strong bid for this prize, donated by an enthusiastic member.

W. L. Growall of San Francisco, but formerly a resident of Atherton, was elected president of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association at the second annual convention of that body, which has just been concluded at Los Angeles. Growall is the first San Franciscan to win that office.

Lost—Two horses, one black and the other white, hitched to a rack wagon. Finder will be rewarded by leaving the outfit at Triumph Cafe, Menlo Park.

James C. McIntyre, who left here a number of years ago for the oil fields of southern California and later went to Mexico where he has been for years. Recently he resigned his position with the East Coast Oil Company to become general manager for the U. S. Mex. Oil Company. Mr. McIntyre is a son of Thomas McIntyre, a former pioneer resident of Menlo Park. Young McIntyre is an oil expert who has made good. His salary in his present position is $1200 gold per month.

Runnymede

There was a large crowd out to enjoy the dancing party given by the Woman's Club, Saturday evening. Mrs. Wm. Gurr and Mrs. C. S. Harlan furnished the music.

There was also a good attendance at the berry growers' meeting at the old club house. Mr. Emery, who has been acting as secretary, wished to be relieved of the duties, and Mrs. Harte was appointed to fill the office.

Miss Violet Simpson is to accompany Mr. and Mrs. Burns and family who have known her since childhood, to Honolulu, where she will finish her schooling. She will probably be gone two years. They expect to sail February 2.

The Butler property on the Bay Road is to be subdivided into small acreages and sold, a large sign being put on the property to that effect a day or two ago.

F. C. Nickerson and J. C. Pollard are improving their acres, recently purchased from H. J. Fitz of Winters, California.

Ralph Wolverton and Mrs. N. P. Oleson have been joined by their brother from Colorado, who arrived Friday for an extended stay in California.

Mrs. Gibson and daughter, Barbara of Oakland, were greeting the old neighbors on Runnymede streets, Saturday, while in Runnymede for the week-end at the Morrill home. Miss Barbara came down for the birthday party of little Miss Jane Morrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weeks chaperoned some of the young people to Menlo Park, Friday evening, where they enjoyed an evening of dancing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clodfelter. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Clodfelter were: Erwin Berndt, Laurence Lam, Wm. Bancroft, Lester Harper, Hebe Epperson, Cecil Lammiman, Ersel Collins, Leon Poulson, Tom Weeks, Lomar Anderson, Blanche Vanthuyne, Alberta Bancroft, Patsy Crighton, Irma Follett, Blanche Harper, Marie Collins and Helen Crowther. James Carins is building a garage on his property in the new tract and a bungalow has been started by J. F. Collins for Mrs. Davies in the new tract on O'Connor street, and contract made for a bungalow on Weeks street for G. Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Boulter of San Jose and Doctor and Mrs. D. A. Knox of Laytonville, California, were callers at the E. R. Lam home Saturday.

Festyn Davies will lead a community "sing" at Runnymede Saturday evening. He will bring several singers with him for the occasion.

Professor Davies is noted for his enthusiasm and energy in choral work, and everyone in the community will be well repaid for attending this meeting.

Runnymeders remember with pleasure a former visit of Professor Davies in the old club house, and will look forward with anticipation to a treat next Saturday evening.

Protect Your Family's Future

However much you desire to appoint an individual Executor, would you jeopardize the future of your loved ones by an unwise, though perhaps thoughtful, selection?

You have a sincere regard for your friend and an enduring affection for your wife, but why burden either of them with the exacting duties of executorship?

The prudent thing to do now is to call in your lawyer and make a Will, appointing California's largest bank as Executor thereof.

The Bank of Italy is the Ideal Executor. It is always competent, always painstaking, always ready, always thoughtful.
